

CAREER READINESS

includes leadership development, people skills, personal wellness, job preparation, entrepreneurship, finance, technology, and positive habits.

KNOWLEDGE

Business Principles

The learner understands foundational business principles including value propositions, managing a team, profit margins, and business planning.

Cross-Cultural Understanding

The learner understands cross-cultural relationships and collaborates with people of other cultures with humility and empathy.

Moneywise

The learner understands traditional financial tools such as checking accounts, savings accounts, investments, interest rates, and retirement accounts as well as technologies like online banking and digitally secure payments.

Technology Concepts

The learner understands the purpose of the hardware components of a computer, the different layers of code that make computers function, and how the web works.

SKILLS

Dealing with Stress

The learner conducts self-assessments to identify points of stress in life and resolves stress in healthy and appropriate ways.

Healthy Decisionmaking

The learner actively considers options and makes healthy choices regarding diet, exercise habits, and workplace routines.

Human-Centered Design

The learner uses human-centered design methods to research, form ideas, problem-solve, iterate, communicate, receive feedback, and prototype.

Mentoring

The learner provides guidance and care to another person through a constructive relationship by exhibiting behaviors such as offering advice, sharing knowledge, or increasing exposure to opportunities.

Research

The learner effectively poses research questions, gathers resources, analyzes and interprets information, and forms connections between ideas. The learner uses this process to tell an accurate and compelling story.

DISPOSITIONS

Career Planning

The learner demonstrates a purposeful and strategic approach to future work. The learner has a specific interest in acquiring a difficult and economically valuable skill.

Collaboration

The learner works amicably with others to overcome conflicts and differences of opinion to develop work products and solve problems. The learner recognizes individual strengths and weaknesses and different leadership styles.

Giving Back

The learner appreciates the personal and global importance of giving. The learner demonstrates empathy and a willingness to sacrifice in order to help others.

Learn more about competencies and digital badges at remakelearning.org/competencies.

These shared competencies were developed through a community process led by The Sprout Fund with the generous support of The Hillman Foundation. Support for the Remake Learning Network is provided by The Grable Foundation, Claude Worthington Benedum Foundation, John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation, McCune Foundation, and The Pittsburgh Foundation.

THIS WORK BY THE SPROUT FUND IS LICENSED UNDER A CREATIVE COMMONS ATTRIBUTION-SHAREALIKE 4.0 INTERNATIONAL LICENSE.

